

A & F style mandolin cases

These cases are all the rage with the mandolin playing set. Sturdy AND fashionable, the cases will stand up to the harsh treatment cases so often endure.

The cases come in kicky green, blue, red, yellow, and black colors. All cases have a plush velvet padded interior and strap

Kentucky F-Style Mandolin

Kentucky mandolins have long been a staple instrument of top bluegrass and folk players. With husky, barking sound, it is versatile enough to blend in with all styles. This is the ultimate value in a "working musician's" mandolin.

The Model KM-620-B features maple back and sides, a spruce top and rosewood fingerboard. All hardware is gold plated and the neck has a fully adjustable truss rod.

"King Koa" Breedlove guitar

This guitar has several factors contributing to its mystic appeal: It is made of Koa, a Hawaiian hardwood that was once only used by royals for the construction of warships and the mother of pearl inlay of a mermaid on the fingerboard. A true collector's piece, it is made with highly-figured sides and back, and bound with rare bloodwood. We are offering this guitar at the lowest price that Breedlove will allow, 20% off retail! Unstamped French Contrabass bow

- This bow is my favorite of our selection. Weighing in at 143 grams, this bow pulls an extraordinary sound with great ease. Its slightly short length allows for intricate playing on the naturally sluggish bass. Its relatively short length makes it easily handled by a smaller hand. The bow has pernambuco stick and nickel mounted ebony frog. The quality and price cannot be beat. $380
